Dear Parents/Guardians

I trust you all had a relaxing, safe and enjoyable Christmas and got the chance to enjoy time with your loved ones. As you are probably aware from the news this morning, a return to face to face teaching has been delayed until 11th January for all primary school pupils and instead the Education Minister has asked schools to teach remotely next week. Given the unprecedented levels of positive Covid-19 tests since Christmas, and the pressure this applies to our health service, this decision probably didn't come as a surprise, however, the normality of returning to school would have been greatly welcomed by us all.

Having just received clarification from the Education Minister, I wanted to update you on the arrangements for next week:

- As was originally planned, Monday 4th January will be a staff only day, during which teachers will plan and prepare activities for the rest of the week.
- We intend to use Seesaw to continue to facilitate teaching and learning from Tuesday 5th – Friday 8th January. It is vitally important that all pupils log on everyday to complete the set activities and class teachers will be available during the period 9am-4pm to offer teaching support and feedback. If you require alternative arrangements to be made or do not have access to a device, please contact the school on Monday morning.
- Although the reopening of school buildings has been postponed for a week, the Executive has asked schools to remain open for a limited number of children. These include:

- children who are vulnerable and;

- children whom both parents (or a parent in a single parent family) are key workers, with no other safe alternative.

This provision in school will be in a supervisory capacity and iPads will be provided to allow pupils to access the work set by the class teacher via Seesaw.

The first step for all of us will be to ascertain the need in our own school community for supervised provision next week. I have included the list that that DENI has classified as vulnerable and a list of key workers as reference. If you are a parent who will be unable to carry out their key worker role without your child being supervised by the school or have a child that is vulnerable and needs the routine of attending school please email me over the weekend smcgrath554@c2kni.net. Alternatively, please phone Mrs McParland (02841775656) before 12 noon on Monday 4th January to arrange supervision, if required. I will then directly communicate with key worker parents or parents of vulnerable pupils about future arrangements for next week.

Finally, may I take this opportunity to wish you a Happy New Year. In an extraordinary year, I've been extremely grateful for your extraordinary support and encouragement as we've worked together to ensure our children are happy in school and continue to thrive. I'm so proud of all our pupils' accomplishments, particularly in this extraordinary year and would like to thank the whole school team for their outstanding commitment to our pupils and to the school.

Wishing you and your family a safe, healthy and happy new year to come!

Kind regards,

Sharon McGrath
(Principal)
